A Single Portal to Create, Manage, Deliver, and Assets

The Learning Path Video Course Creation tool let's teachers know who's engaged and tracks student progress.

Create individual student goals and assignments. As they watch videos and answer the questions, Learning Path tracks student progress.

A threshold or passing grade can be set to assure that the content being learned is acknowledged and applied before moving onto the next course.

A report is then generated indicating who watched the video(s) and how many answers they correctly answered to the appropriate teachers or administrator.

The data can show the need for individual attention or revisiting a topic for greater understanding.

Each teacher has their own channel with a library of video, images, documents and other media files that can be shared individually and embedded in lessons.
